

Joe Schorge

Founder and Managing Partner Isomer Capital

Joe Schorge is the Founder and Managing Partner of Isomer Capital, based in London and focused exclusively on European venture capital. Isomer accesses high-potential opportunities in European technology through limited partner investments in early-stage funds, company co-investments, and secondary purchases of both funds and company positions. Joe has over 25 years experience as an LP, GP and technology operations executive, previously at Pomona Capital, a leading global secondaries firm, and at Cambridge Associates responsible for advising institutional investors on private equity investments. Joe began his career in information technology operating roles at Invensys plc (now Schneider Electric) in the US and Europe. He received a BS in Electrical and Computer Engineering from the University of Massachusetts, Dartmouth and an MBA from London Business School.

Informal Bio and Pic

Joe Schorge is the Founder and Managing Partner of Isomer Capital, a private investment firm based in London and focused on European technology venture capital. Joe invests in the future by supporting high-potential young technology companies all over Europe through limited partner investments in early-stage VC funds, company co-investments, and secondary purchases of both funds and company positions. Joe has over 25 years of experience as an LP, GP and technology operations executive. He began his career in information technology, having studied Electrical and Computer Engineering, and an MBA, after spending quite a few years as “that kid who takes everything apart, and spends too much time on the computer” while growing up in the US.
