

Δημήτρης Σολδάτος

FORPEOPLE Group | Managing Director

Strategic and results-driven executive with over 15 years of leadership experience driving organizational growth, operational excellence, and innovation. Proven expertise in developing high-performing teams, executing transformative strategies, and building partnerships that strengthen market position and profitability.

Professional Experience

Managing Director | FORPEOPLE GROUP

Athens, Greece | 2020 – Present

- Define and execute corporate strategy, driving sustainable growth and market leadership.
- Oversee cross-functional operations across product development, sales, marketing, and finance.
- Establish KPIs, monitor performance, and ensure operational efficiency and accountability.
- Lead innovation and digital transformation initiatives to enhance scalability and competitiveness.
- Build and mentor leadership teams, fostering a culture of excellence and continuous improvement.
- Represent the company in strategic partnerships, negotiations, and industry forums.

Chairman, European Work Council | RANDSTAD

Athens, Greece | 2015 – 2019

- Led cross-border collaboration across European operations, promoting transparent communication and alignment of HR strategies.
- Represented national interests at the European level, influencing corporate policy and employee relations.
- Facilitated initiatives to harmonize employment practices and strengthen organizational unity.

Earlier Career

Held progressive roles in HR and team leadership at Randstad Hellas and Klueh Human Resources Hellas, focusing on business development, talent acquisition, and operational optimization.

Education

- MSc in Services Management — Athens University of Economics & Business
- BSc in Business Administration — Athens University of Economics & Business

Languages

- Greek (Native)
- English (C2 – Fluent)